fact. Windham played a far better game than the score would indicate. The local boys showed marked superiority in the use of the forward pass, and several times threatened the Bulkeley goal line. Hoxte, Jordan and Blakeslee played well for Windham, while Kelly was the bright and particular shining star for Bulkeley, making all of the touchdowns and also kicking the three goals. The first half ended with the score 6-6.

Windham played throughout the entire game with the original lineup that started the contest.

The next opponent with Windham High is the Manual Training school team that is scheduled for next Saturday.

crushed in.

A man coming along in an automobile soon after 4 o'clock, when it is assumed that the accident occurred, found the body and notified neighbors. Medical Examiner Dr. W. L. Higgins viewed the body and gave his opinion that the man died as the result of an accident. He gave orders for the removal of the body to the home of the deceased, in South Coventry, and turned the body over to Funeral Director H. N. Fenn of this city.

Mh. Whitman was a native of Coventry and had lived practically all his life in Tolland, except for about ten years, when a boy, he resided in Rhode Island. He lived in North Coventry for many years, and had only lived in South Coventry village about a year. He was a democrat and had been actively interested in the town's affairs.

Decision for Negative.

An interesting debate between members of the school was held at Killing-ly High school building Friday evening. The sense of the matter under debate was that it is better for nations in time of peace to prepare for war. The affirmative side argued for preparation and the negative side for arbitration. Miss Elsie Douglas and Harold Barber argued the affirmative and Miss Ruth Johnson of Wauregan and Carrol Lawton of Brooklyn the negative, the latter being declared winners of the debate. Clear and forcible arguments were presented by both sides and the debate was very close.

Broken Arm and Cut Head Follow Quarrel-John Oroskoski Held in $100 Bonds-Borough Eleven Defeats

There was an altercation between two firemen in the Aspinock boiler house shortly after 10 o'clock Saturday night. Valery Gorcenceki and John Oroskoski came to work in the ten o'clock shift. The trouble started in an argument about their work. The men got mad and came to blows. Gorcenceki was struck over the head by Oroskoski with a heavy iron slicing bar. He threw up his arm to ward off the blow and the arm was broken short off, two inches of the larger bone being actually pulverized. The force of the blow then brought the bar to the man's head, indicting a long scalp wound. Goroshoski was taken to Dr. R. R. Agnew's office, where his scalp was sewn together and the broken arm set. He was then taken home. Dr. Agnew stated that had the skull received the full force of the blow it would have been crushed like an eggshell. Thankegiving day.
